

DIVERSITY MAKES BETTER COCOA AND A BETTER COMPANY

We believe cocoa connects people across cultures, continents, and communities, and so should we. We publicly commit to the principles of Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (JEDI).

We value diversity in our team, in our partners, and in the farming communities we work with, including Indigenous and local communities.

Guided by our Code of Ethics, we foster respectful and inclusive relationships throughout our business and create a workplace where people can show up as themselves and contribute meaningfully.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Karim Helal', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Karim Helal, CEO
(Founder)